

Creative COLLECTIBLES

Creative Collectibles are art objects designed to promote an organization, celebrate a milestone in a company's history, or serve as a remembrance of an important event, date or visit. They are intended to connect your clients to their experience in a unique way. Additionally, Creative Collectibles will communicate and encourage dialogue with others that view each unique piece. Creative Collectibles are much more than mass produced premiums chosen from a catalog. They are ideal for retail sales, trade shows or to celebrate an important event. And each is custom designed specifically for your audience.

Creative Collectibles can be produced as fine art prints, images on wood blocks or boxes, metal, glass, acrylic or any medium that communicates your message best. We work with images that you provide, or you may choose from a portfolio of images created by our select artists.
